The Faces of NOPAL

This brand would be nothing without the men & women creating every piece of art by hand, in their community. Every village has its specificity, clay, palm, wool, leather ... you name it ! Families have been working from generation to generation, keeping the traditional techniques safe.

Clementine Didi - Founder

“ World traveler since I’m 14, I only feel comfortable when traveling off the beaten tracks & nurturing my creative side by meeting people, discovering new places & learning about new cultures & traditions.

With two Masters in International Management & Hospitality Management, I’ve dedicated my career to advertising and restaurants management.

For me, it’s very important that Nopal remains an ethical & affordable brand.
